Thursday, June 17, 2004

Bishop Swenson opened us in prayer at 9:09am and then invited Tom Choi to the podium.

Board of Ordained Ministry

Tom Choi introduced John Farley who celebrated the preaching retreat as an opportunity for fellowship and learning. This year the Order of Elders is sponsoring a Fishing Derby. John Farley then gave a PowerPoint presentation on the nature and relationship of the Orders of Elders and Deacons.

The main task of order is formation, discernment, supervision of call. The Clergy Orders work in formation the Board of Ordained Ministry handles discernment and the cabinet handles supervision. Between these three bodies there is a covenant. If one of these spheres dominated the others we may have a kingdom, that is not of God (Mickey silhouette).

John introduced Jan Kishpaugh

Jan reported on The Order of Deacons.

Highlights: Order of Deacons page on the Cal-Pac website. They have been trying to clarify the role of Deacons in the life of the church. She announced Debbie Gara as the new chairperson for the Order of Deacons.

Recommendation

Sharon Rhodes-Wickett spoke from the floor, suggesting changes or additions to the path by which ministerial families in crisis could find help. She suggested that District Superintendents should be notified when crisis occurs in the lives of our clergy. DS. would then assign an Elder Pastor to provide support for the pastor and family and work with the pastor.s SPRC John Farley responded that such a suggestion would be taken as an agenda item once the task force for Pastoral Support convenes.

Tom Choi introduced Jonathan Lee to report for the Committee on Continuing Education. He informed the conference membership that there are grants available for Continuing Education.

Wayne Walters announced several changes from General Conference which do not take effect until January 2005, regarding the eligibility of candidates to apply for their Probationary Membership before the completion of their M.Div requirement.As the change takes place after this year.s application deadline, there would be no application of the changes until next year.

D-6 DAILY PROCEEDINGS.2004

WayneWalters advised the body that he would be bringing a motion on Friday.

Motion to Suspend rule 6D to allow MyronWingfield and Tom Choi to continue to serve one to two years each.

The board has incurred around a 40% turn over in the last three years. This coming year, the Board will consist of 65% of persons who have served on the board two years or less. Additionally, there has been significant change in the executive committee over the last three years.

Dave Richardson read the Discipline in terms of what is required of clergy in terms of confidentiality and the mandatory reporting laws.

The Board will generate a list detailing the requirements of mandatory reporting. Ron Griffen spoke from the floor requesting a clarification of mandatory reporting on elder abuse.

Tom Griffith spoke from the floor to speak of the Conference Endowment Fund.As he spoke of how the conference was struggling to pay for the retired clergy retirement benefit, he challenged the conference membership to consider asking for the members of our congregations to remember the Conference Endowment Fund.

Dulce Proud spoke from the floor on behalf of California Hospice saying she understands that elder abuse is a mandated reporting issue. Richardson commented that the changes are only in regards to the narrow definition as to what constitutes confessional relationships.

Bishop Swenson closed the session with prayer.

Safety Issues

Ken Ellis welcomed all. He indicated wheelchair pockets at various locations. He also requested everyone to silence cell phones and PDAs. He noted additional disabled parking locations in the front and behind the Chapel. For the hearing impaired, proceedings can be heard on FM100.2. Ken recommended drinking sufficient amounts of water. Water bottles are allowed in the chapel and they are the only beverages allowed in the Chapel.

Bishop.s Address

Bishop Swenson noted the privilege to have Gaunnie Hardin Dixon and Bishop Charles Jordan sit with her at the Bishop.s Table. She hoped for peace throughout the world. Each plenary will be opened with a prayer for peace. She welcomed Louise Chase to open this plenary with a prayer for peace.

In her address, she noted that Jesus did not send out the disciples alone but sent them two by-two. Similarly, she recognized Gaunnie for her partnership in ministry as they traveled together. She offered Gaunnie a plaque in thanksgiving as she completes her eight years of service as Conference Lay Leader.

Laity Address

Gaunnie Hardin Dixon offered Bishop Swenson a T-Shirt with the words .Tai Chi Chih.. Gaunnie recognized the members of the Board of Laity. She noted the names of the District Lay Leaders. In her address, she noted that eight years ago when she became Conference Lay Leader, there was a different person sitting in the Bishop.s chair. In fact, ... it was a man. In recent years, she wondered who this new person is who now sits in the Bishop.s chair. She prays with her and they travels together. She is more than just a Bishop . she is a friend. They have been partners as they ministered to the districts and to all people throughout the conference spanning the Pacific and Southern California. She also experienced grief with the members of our conference. She commended the continuing work among each district. This year, Gaunnie noted that Board of Laity looked D-8 DAILY PROCEEDINGS.2004 for young leaders to receive the Bishop Gerald KennedyAward. The award was given to Kim Unland. Gaunnie recognized various laity who had given their service with her. She also thanked her family who will welcome her back next week. But she noted that she will not be home long for God has other plans calling her. She challenged all to respond to the mission God calls us.

Greetings from Sessions

John Valles welcomed everyone to the 2004 Annual Conference. He recognized all the people working behind the scenes for the conference. He noted that this is a no fragrance conference. He offered prayer for God.s guidance throughout the conference sessions.

He was a scholar and theologian who helped gather John Wesley.s works and was a leader in the early study of Wesley. The books are available at Cokesbury for $25.00 per volume.

The Bishop reminded us that yesterday was Wesley.s 301st birthday and today is D.S. John Valles. birthday.

DAILY PROCEEDINGS. 2004 D-11

Barb Boswell will be here to sign her book: Every time I Turn Around I Bump into God.

Episcopal Nomination Report

David Burgeson reminded the group that they had been given a list of those nominated and resumes as they were available. Delegates to Annual conference are eligible to vote for up to three candidates. Thomas Choi, Cheol Kwak and Thomas Hill each withdrew their own name from consideration. Ballots were then distributed and collected.

Committee on Finance and Administration report

George Crisp began delivery of the CFA report, which is located on pages 26 through 29 of the Preliminary report with additions in .The CircuitWest. andArrival Packet.

Apportionments for 2003 exceeded $11 million, which is an all, time high! In 2003 more churches reached 100% of their apportionment and many other churches are making great strides toward meeting that goal. This year 11 more churches than last year have met their 5/12 goal by the end of May. George pointed out that these monthly payments not only benefit the Conference cash flow, but the habit of incremental giving often makes meeting large annual goals simpler.

Theresa Basile discussed apportionments and gave thanks to all who are generously giving of their time, talents and prayers to the work of the Annual Conference. We are truly a .giving conference.. She presented the Conference Finance and Administration goal that all churches meet 100% of their apportionments by 2008. Response forms were passed out and it was asked that delegates complete them and place them in the designated boxes located in the narthex. Theresa referred to sermon delivered by Bishop Bruce Clay entitled .Give Until It Heals.. In it he pointed out that we don.t understand giving as it was intended because of the negative language surrounding giving such as .give till it hurts.. Bishop Swenson reinforced this idea and suggested that we can become a 100% conference by .assuring each other, helping each other, as well as dreaming and visioning with each other.. The discussion was closed with the quote, .raise our standard of giving instead of our standard of living..

George Crisp thanked Theresa. He highlighted an article about apportionment and CFA in the June 4 edition of CircuitWest and thanked Kim Fry and Larry Hygh for their assistance. He also requested that others submit their experiences in attempting to lead congregations toward achieving the goal of 100% apportionment giving.

This year.s audit received no qualifications and no recommendations for improvement; this is our third straight .clean. audit.

The Jubilee Fund report was delivered by George Crisp. 2003 was a very successful year. All distribution goals were met and the corpus grew. The complete report is located on pages 28 and 29 of the Preliminary Report. $6,204,311.44 is available for the coming year with 7% available for distribution. It will be equally divided between grants and returns to local churches. A little over $1.2 million has been returned to 163 local churches.

It appears that retiree health care contributions will be met without the use of Jubilee funds. The special offering brought in 63.3% of its target with only ¼ of the local churches having so far been involved. The clergy have met 74% of their goal with 6 months to go!

Patricia Youngquist, incoming CFA president was introduced to the conference. She presented the 2005 budget and gave some historical background. CFA has sought to hold the budget at the 2003 level; however, several one-time issues have made this impossible. In light of declining membership, holding the budget to the 2003 level is financially prudent behavior. The 2005 budget seeks to reach the goals of funding mission and ministry, reducing apportionments, receiving 100% from 100% by 2008, and achieving fiscal responsibility.

The 2005 budgeting process took into account all requests from boards and agencies to build bridges, nurture leadership, and build new ministries. Always keeping fiscal accountability before them, CFA was forced to make unwanted and painful cuts. They desired to never cut back on mission and ministry. Income problems make this desire by CFA a difficult goal. They are grateful and give thanks to God for all apportioned giving! They are equally thankful and appreciative of the efforts made by all the boards and agencies who have made minimal requests for additional funding.

Jesus said, .To whom much has been given, much will be required.. Let us be responsible stewards.

Benediction

Bishop Swenson invited Marilynn Huntington to close the Plenary with prayer. Reverend Virginia Fifield asked for prayers for the family of Paul Johnson who was killed today in Saudi Arabia. Marilyn prayerfully closed the session.

Friday, June 18, 2004

1:30pm-4:00

Call to Order

Bishop MaryAnn Swenson called the session to order at 1:50 p.m.

Orders of the Day

Erika Gara presented revised orders of the day.

They were Approved.

Point of Personal Privilege

Dave Richardson rose to withdraw his name for episcopal candidacy. He urged the body to get behind one candidate. He proposed an end to balloting for the sake of our backing one candidate. The body was divided. It was NOT Approved.

Council on Finance and Administration

George Crisp introduced the proposed 2005 budget. The proposal represents a beginning of a change in the financial culture of our conference..

Board of Pensions

DAILY PROCEEDINGS.2004 D-13

Bud Wrisley presented a proposal that impacts the budget. He spoke to Recommendation #4. to move the payment of CPP to local churches and out of apportionments. CPP is a benefit to clergy in event of death or incapacity. The premium for each clergy vary from $1,000-2,500 dollars per year. A legislative section moved approval this morning and the proposal will appear on the Consent Calendar. The CFA is working to see that no church will have a combined cost (apportionments and CPP) greater than what they currently pay. The Annual Conference has primary responsibility for CPP and will ensure that premiums are paid.

Charles Cappelman announced that costs would be cut by changing CircuitWest to a monthly publication. The United Methodist Reporter will no longer be distributed with CircuitWest. Churches were encouraged to look on-line for information and distribute to church leaders as necessary.

Council on Finance and Administration

George Crisp drew our attention back to the 2005 Proposed Budget (revised 6/16/04). He presented the adoption of the budget by several recommendations. Rev. Crisp announced that a vote on the budget is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon.

Motion

George Crisp acknowledged Dan Gara's work and moved the reelection of Dan Gara for the 2005-2008 Quadrennium. The body adopted the movement with a strong voice. Mr. Gara's support staff was recognized and thanked. Rev. Crisp thanked all those who have supported him through a challenging period of service.

Becky Haase stood for a moment of personal privilege. She lifted up the legacy of Ray van Alstine and his advocacy of tithing.

Board of Ordained Ministry

Wayne Walters introduced Clergy being received for ordination this year. Diane Rehfield introduced the candidates for the order of Deacon to the body. Myron Wingfield introduced the candidates for probationary status as Elders. Catie Coots introduced those who are being ordained Elders in Full Connection. Thomas Choi introduced those from other denominations whose Orders were being recognized, also those being received into full membership after a period of probation. Debbie Gara prayed for all the candidates. Finally those transferring into our Conference were recognized.

Consent Calendar

Molly Vetter presented to the body the Consent Calendar. Those listed received at least 80% of approval in legislative section.

Board of Ordained Ministry

Jan Kishpaugh called attention to flyer that was distributed explaining the two Orders of ministry in the United Methodist Church. The Cal-Pac website www.cal-pac.org contains a posting of Deacon.s pictures. Jan introduced Debbie Gara, her successor as head of the Order of Deacons. Rev. Gara spoke to her excitement in beginning this new work.

Motion to Suspend

D-14 DAILY PROCEEDINGS.2004

WayneWalters moved to suspend the conference tenure rule for to allow Myron Wingfield an additional year and Tom Choi a possible two additional years. It was Approved.

Wayne announced the end of his tenure as Chair and asked the body to recognize those who labor on the board. The new chairperson will be Diane Rehfield, an ordained Deacon.

Diane Rehfield present David Stoner who will become a Deacon in Full Connection and SongJa Park who will retire.

Motion

Diane Rehfield moved that David Stoner and Merrijoy W. Buist be given leaves of absence as Diaconal Ministers. It was Approved.

Diane asked for the prayers of the body in the work of the Board.

Personal Privilege

Rich Bolin lifted up Daisy Ho, a newly ordained Deacon, who has been sent back to Hong Kong by Immigration and Naturalization authorities. Daisy is working with the Methodist Church in Hong Kong. The body was urged to support Daisy as a missionary and pray for her return to active service in our Conference.

Personal Privilege

Lily Villamin lifted up Kolani Fiti who is the hospital with kidney problems. Terry Van Hook offered prayer for both.

Claremont School of Theology

Dr. Phil Amerson, the president of Claremont School of Theology, reported on the School. Two signs have been posted along Highways 10 and 210 announcing the school. The School has been reaffirmed for accreditation for the next ten years, with two commendations. Phil mentioned that the 2005 budget calls for a reduction in support to the school from the Conference. Phil urged churches to pay apportionments in full. He reminded the body that giving was an investment in leadership for the future of our churches. He quoted Wesley.s call to unite .knowledge and vital piety., and spoke of his work to train pastors not with a love of power, but with the power of love.

Episcopal Election

The bishop presented a report on the first balloting for Episcopal candidacy. 427 votes needed for election. Grant Hagiya was elected to candidacy with 541 votes.

Bishop Swenson asked the body if they wished to continue voting for additional nominees.

The body voted not continue nominations.

Point of Privilege

Ralph Barlow suggested that we remember Bishop Wheatley who lives within our midst. Greetings will be sent to him.

DAILY PROCEEDINGS.2004 D-15

Leadership Team Report.

David Richardson presented the Leadership Team report.

Marcia Hartsock shared that the role of the team is to oversee the organizational restructuring of the conference. Its primary tasks are to 1) build bridges and draw strength from one another, 2) nurture fruitful and prophetic leadership, and 3) plant new ministries. Through an analogy of the works of the environmentalist Scotch, David drew a parallel between the cooperative nesting of certain birds and ourAnnual Conference. These birds postpone their own personal needs for the good of the entire flocks. survival. This biocompatibility is cooperative living.We are learning how to share our commonwealth. The UMC has impoverished areas and the leadership want to set as a goal to be helpers at the nest wherein rich cultural diversity brings an economy of gifts rather than wealth, and economy of talents and spiritual life as a conference. This will keep us from depleting ourselves in spite of budgetary constraints. The Team has been about creating a cooperative network for .asset allocation and sharing of wealth.. How can we share our common wealth? The leadership team wants to bring a change in direction.We believe that we can get along.We have a rich cultural diversity that can be shared.We need to be intentional so as not to deplete ourselves. Ministry rather than dollars should be used to assess the effectiveness of the conference. Thinking about our common task helps us to share our common wealth. In this way we can move forward in our work to make this a beautiful global church.

Motion

Sharon Rhodes-Wickett moved that we be intentional about visiting our retired pastors and their spouses to discern the impact of healthcare changes made this past year. 173 visits were made in writing. She acknowledged the work of those who have been involved this year. She mentioned that requests for financial assistance were granted to assist with healthcare coverage.

Veda Ward presented the goals for the year. The team will focus on 1) continuing the work by Dave Richardson in sharing the common wealth, 2) growing healthy churches, not just increasing numbers, and 3) strengthening leadership covenant in all areas of connectedness.We connect the heart and the head.

Becky Hasse reported that this Leadership Team has developed and grown with struggles since this was a brand new committee.Action was adopted to rotate committee members by areas and staggered years. Beginning this year some new members will be elected for continuity as well as change. Members of the team who will be leaving were acknowledged.

Leadership Team Nominations.Jim Brewster

Jim Brewster read the rules for nominations. He reported that one clergy and two lay were nominated. Names will be posted on the front as well as nominees received today.

Healthcare Task Force/Board of Pensions

Bud Wrisley and Jan Hanson reported that 2003-04 has been a year of reevaluation by the Board of Pensions Recommendation #4 (Arrival Packet)

Judy Cobb, Co-Chair of the Healthcare Task Force, presented the history of the Task Force.

In 2003, the Board of Pensions recommended: Pastors pay a part of their premiums, that Apportionments not be reduced, that the Conference would make contributions to cover the cost of healthcare for our retired clergy, that Jubilee funds for 2004 would be temporarily suspended (they have now been released), that retirees be contacted for their input, and that a task force be established to work on social justice and specific responses to our Conference responsibility.

In 2004, the Healthcare Task Force recommends that prescription drug levels be kept at the current level. The task force will continue to solicit and receive contributions from retired clergy not on the plan. It was decided not to ask active clergy contribution to premiums at this time.

Long Term solutions: Seek out affordable health care coverage. Go out to bid for alternate carrier. National plan connection to national church and investigate the feasibility of joining the National Health plan Health Flex. 24 conferences are currently participating in DAILY PROCEEDINGS.2004 D-17 the national plan, which provide input into plan design and allow us to address issues.

There is no guarantee that the costs would be reduced. 2006 is targeted for joining if we wish to do so. It broadens access to healthcare for those living outside CA. Disadvantage all active clergy must participate in the plan. Endowment: Ask for permission to raise funds to 5 and 10 million dollars over a 2-4 year period.

Conference Theme Conversation

Fernando Santillana and Mabel Habersham-Flowers presented the Conference Theme Conversation on Spiritual and Prophetic Leadership.

They asked the body to discuss the following questions:

What do you understand by spiritual and prophetic leadership?

What are the main concerns of this type of leadership?

What should a spiritual and prophetic leader do in your church or your community?

Mable Habersham-Flowers closed the Theme Report in song.

Legislative Committee #4

One Spirit: Ministry Thru Land and Buildings, page 45

AMENDMENT

RECOMMENDATION NO. 1

The One Spirit Task Force recommends the following section be inserted at the end of Section I of the Guidelines on Shared Facilities. (The Journal, 2003, page I-64)

I.A. BIBLICALHOSPITALITY: FOUNDATION FOR ONE SPIRIT:

MINISTRY THROUGH LAND AND BUILDINGS

Hospitality is a recurring story in the Bible. It began with the God who created the world, filling the land, sea and air with different creatures dotting the landscape with trees and vegetation, so that by the time God created man and woman, they found themselves in a hospitable world.

Hospitality is the character of God, calling a chosen people, not as a sign of privilege, but as a means of blessing the whole world. God's Son, Jesus, came into the world, dining with sinners and the outcast of society. He taught about a God who prepares a feast and invites the least to share the bounty on God's table. In fact, the coming of the realm of God will be celebrated through a feast, where the innumerable number of people coming from all corners of the world will join together in a sumptuous meal.

While the word hospitality is a translation of the Latin noun .hospitium. (or the adjective hospitalis) which that in turn derives from .hospes,. meaning both .guest and host;. and while the direct translation of the Greek word for hospitality is composed of two parts.love and stranger, It literally means .love of the stranger.. the root verb of .stranger. also means .to be entertained. or .to be surprised.. (A Christian View of Hospitality by Michele Hershberger, Herald Press, pp. 19-20). Hospitality for us goes beyond seeing others as strangers and separating people into categories of guest and host. Rather, we encourage congregations to treat each other with dignity and respect, seeing each other as brother and sister in Christ, fully expecting .to be surprised. by the richness of gifts and faith that can be shared between people of different cultures.

Hospitality is a way of life in the people and in the lands of the Bible. It is the norm of many countries in the world. We see Abraham entertaining three divine guests in the middle of the desert. In fact, the nomadic way of life practically demands hospitality. The Old Testament is full of injunctions regarding the treatment of the alien or the stranger. The people of Israel worshipped a God who .shows His love for the alien by giving him food and clothing.. They were commanded to show their love for the alien for they were alien in the land of Egypt. (Deut. 10:18-19)

The United States is a land of immigrants. We have been recipients and givers of hospitality. The Methodist Circuit Riders, like the Twelve Disciples of Jesus, brought the Good News to the remote places of the colonies, dependent upon the hospitality of the people. People in the Third World did the same. They experienced opposition but nevertheless kept on knowing that somehow God will prepare hospitable hearts that will open their doors to their homes. .Love the strangers,. God tells God.s people, .for you were once aliens in Egypt..

I Peter 4:9 says, .Be hospitable to one another without complaining.. Peter wrote this to the .strangers people .scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bythinia. (I Peter 1:1). This may be the same advice that we need to heed as we consider the use of land and buildings in ministry. We have found that a piece of legal papers is are not enough to make the sharing of God.s buildings and land for ministry a pleasant and meaningful experience. We have also found that a common characteristic of a successful partnership between congregations is the willingness of both congregations not only to open doors of the building, but also to open the doors of their hearts and life to one another. Legal contracts may be necessary in somehow putting in writing the visions and expectations of the partnership in mission, but it will take a generous heart and a special dosage of grace and hospitality from both to keep it going, mutually enriching one another.

Peace Prayer by Frank Wulf

Bishop Swenson, Lay Leader Dixon and Members of the Annual Conference, let us pray: Gracious God, may your Spirit of peace burn deeply within our hearts and overwhelm the fear that traps us in cycles of hatred and violence. Holy God, may your Spirit of justice move mightily within our hearts and free us from the selfishness that binds and constricts our lives and keeps us from fully embracing and loving those whom you love. Loving, God may your Spirit of joy flow compassionately in our hearts and fill us with the hope and courage we need to be agents of transformation in our world. You have called us to follow you in the work of building your kingdom. You have called us to grow in love for each other and you and to share that love with a dying world that desperately needs to receive it. Do not let us shrink from this awesome task. Save us from the complacency that leads to inaction and from the laziness that leads to complicity. We are your people transformed and empowered by your Spirit. Let us therefore move forth as a transformed and empowered people to make a real difference without worrying about the cost. Let us trust in you. Really trust in you. Only then will we truly enter the promised land. Only then will justice roll down like a river and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream. Only then will our world really change. In Jesus name we pray. Amen.

Conference Camper of the Year recipients were Dee Baraw for programs and Frank Bell for facilities. Camp Staff Person of the Year was Jason Kuiper. The Cal-Pac Conference HIV/AIDS Ministry Committee will be giving two new awards next year. All recipients heartily applauded by conference attendees!

Leadership Team

Jim Brewster explained the rules for electing the Leadership Team. Laity elect lay members and clergy elect clergy members.

Motion

Jim Brewster moved to suspend the rules to elect the nominees with the most votes on the first ballot. It was Approved.

Gaunnie Hardin Dixon asked to be removed from the ballot.

Patricia Farris asked that the statistics on the current make-up of the Leadership Team be shown on the conference monitors. Jim said it would be provided.

Doug Dickson pointed out that both Rachel Allen and Michael Bankhead are young adults.

Lee Carlilie advised that Andy Mattick is also a young adult.

Mark Marcos spoke to the importance of voting on qualifications rather than race. The Conference Members voted.

DAILY PROCEEDINGS.2004 D-23

Commission on Equitable Compensation

Gary Hart delivered the oral report. The written report is located on pages 22 to 25 of the Preliminary Report. The Commission thanked all who paid their apportionments.

Apportionments pay salaries and provide services through the Commission on Equitable Compensation to churches that are not self-supporting. Approximately $790,000 will be provided to about 80 churches. These are predominately new ministries and ethnic minority churches and ministries. In recent years some of these churches have developed the ability to be self-supporting. These are great success stories! Bishop Swenson pointed out that equitable compensation allows us to be in more places for ministry.

Conference Board of Trustees

Greg Batson, committee chair, delivered the report which is located on pages 69 and 70. This board acts as stewards of the conference's fiscal assets, is responsible for insurance, and is liaison for the conference's legal council. Greg introduced Steve Harbison our Chancellor, legal council, to tell us about a law suit facing the Annual Conference. In 2003 the state of California lifted the statute of limitations for certain crimes and law suits that involved child abuse. In one case three plaintiffs allege they were abused between 1974 and 1979 by Gary Carson-Hall an Associate Pastor at Los Altos U.M.C. After much diligent searching, no primary insurance carrier has been located for this time period. Records were not kept. It is impossible to determine the total possible financial liability to the conference, but it could be substantial. Anyone having information regarding our insurance for this time period, information about Gary Carson-Hall.s Ordination, or other information about the case is asked to contact Steve Harbison through the conference treasurer.s office.

Stephanie Toon asked that we think about the plaintiffs well being. Bishop Swenson asked Paul Dinkle to offer a prayer for the plaintiffs and all victims of child abuse.

Lyman Ellis spoke on the value of the Commission on Archives and History.

Greg Batson discussed the progress of the development of the Pico Union Shalom Zone property into low income housing and a day care facility. Ground breaking is scheduled for August and the Bishop will lead a blessing of the ground.

Board of Church and Society

JoAnn Yoon Fukumoto offered greetings and introduced Bob Edgar, General Secretary of The National Council of Churches. Bob Edgar commended the Conference for its support of the Claremont School of Theology. He explained that The National Council of Churches is the largest ecumenical organization in the country, representing about 130,000 congregations. Our vocation is to restart the ecumenical movement and the interfaith movement. For the last three years the NCC has had a balanced budget and have expanded their long term financial account from 3 million to 10 million. The Council was struggling for a number of years. But the struggle was not financial. The Council had lived passed its vision. The council moves its vision forward to meet today.s needs such as peace in Iraq. Bob Edgar introduced a new program entitled .Let Justice Roll.. This program will help to organize 2 million poor people to vote. The Council is working on a program .Benefit Bank. to help the poor access the 35 billion dollars of D-24 DAILY PROCEEDINGS.2004 welfare resources that go unused. Access to poor people for the benefit bank to tap government benefits that hadn.t been tapped.

We have an urgent need of health care. 43.6 million Americans have no health care 9 million of them are children. We need a strong national defense, which is schools, health care, and a living wage for all. The moral test of the United Methodist Church is what we do for the children, elderly, and poor to provide health care. We have to reorder our priorities. God calls us to seek for justice.

Disaster Response Committee

Toni Ethridge, UMVIM Director, presented the DRC.s report. They have worked with FEMA and other denominations to help those who have been impacted by disasters. Areas receiving the most support last year were Guam, San Diego County, and Paso Robles.

Health Care Task Force

Bud Wrisley delivered the report and began by introducing Jan Hanson, our new conference Benefits Officer and her staff, Shelley Hirata and Marji Martin. The task force plans to focus efforts on increasing the endowment fund. The estate of Ralph Capo left a gift of $28,500 which is the first of three installments. The BOP deficit was reduced by about $132,000 in 2003.

Bud moved that the rules be adopted as revised. The motion carried.

The Bishop.s recommended reading includes Openings by Larry Peacock and The Noon Day Demon by John Blackwell. Both authors will be available to sign their books.

Point of Personal Privilege

Doug Dickson advised that Mike Bankhead broke his leg yesterday. He also recognized and thanked Donna Johnson for her work with fire victims.

Bible Study

The session was opened with a call to worship and prayer by Steve Peralta. Molly Vetter and Terrance Higgins gave a Bible study based on the Joshua story and the Hebrew peoples. entrance into the promised land.

Jurisdictional Pool

Keith Hwang explained that the jurisdictional pool is a list of individuals eligible to serve on General boards and commissions. The Western Jurisdiction's allotments were decreased by about 30 slots last year. All jurisdictional conference delegates are automatically in the pool and 45 more individuals may be nominated based on a categorical structure. The vote will be taken in the morning and the list of potential nominees would be posted by 5:00pm on Saturday June 19th, 2004. Nominations were taken from the floor by subcategory. They were:

Persons with disabilities: Added. Lupita Alonso-Redondo, Tom Simmons,

David Chandler spoke on the diversity of our conference and commended us for our inclusiveness. He expressed concern for the needs of the homosexual population.

Delton Pickering rose to recognize the contributions of David Center who served for 6 years Executive Director of Pensions.

Davis McClellon told us that good is not good enough. We need to ask ourselves, .what can we do that would make Jesus smile?.

The Bishop welcomed Reverend Debbie Pitney from the Oregon-Idaho Annual conference. She was glad to be back home, having grown up in this conference. The Bishop invited her to the Old District Superintendents. Dinner and gave her a t-shirt.

Benediction

George Crisp sang .Sing to the Lord. and closed with prayer.

Call to Order

Bishop MaryAnn Swenson entered on a bicycle . .You can be a Bishop if you can ride with one peddle.. She commended Tom Griffith's book which is available in Cokesbury, and acknowledged the Sierra Service project mission group. Bishop Swenson introduced the afternoon theme: .Christian Integrity..

Conference Theme Conversation

Amy Aitken: Integrity is the cornerstone of our ability to lead. We are called to the sacred trust of leadership with integrity: integrity is the alignment of beliefs with actions.

Recommended reading, Leadership Challenge by (L & H), Christian companion to the Leadership Challenge, Workbook. Studies confirm that people prefer honesty in leaders over other characteristics such as intelligence, and people no longer trust the church.

Integrity can be divided into personal integrity and organization integrity, both are important and interrelated.

Ken Ellis, presented on the topic of personal integrity. Leaders practice what they preach, actions must be connected with values. Ken introduced a brief video presentation: Whom do you Trust? Time of conversation: Where do you see values and actions in the alignment of the lives of the leaders just shown? Have leaders you have known in the church modeled the alignment of beliefs and actions?

Tom Reinhart Marean, spoke on the topic of organizational integrity: organizations must align their values with what they do. Tom introduces a brief video presentation, inviting us to consider company logos and the organizational integrity they do/do not represent: Does the United Methodist church really have Open Hearts, Open Minds, and Doors? Time of conversation: How do the actions of the UMC and your local church seem to align with its values?

Amy Aitken, suggests that credit-ability is the foundation of leadership. Built up creditability can be lost in an instant. Tom Reinhart Marean, spoke of the Wesleyan value of moving on to perfection of love, concluding with a prayer of dedication.

Point of Personal Privilege

Angie McCard offered thanks to the conference and the Bishop for support during her mother's 8 years of service.

Orders of the Day

Erika Gara moved the orders of the day.

Point of Personal Privilege

Richard Bollin, announced the winner of the Mildred Hutchinson Award to Myron and Mariam Stump. The award was presented at the MFSAAward Luncheon.

2005 Budget

George R. Crisp invited action (previously moved) on Recommendation 1: It was Approved.

Recommendation 2: Rich Garner from SB district moves to amend by addition to equitable compensation, line 15 by 100,000 to 858,216. Theodore Lesnet spoke against the recommendation siting that minimum compensation to pastors is a contractual agreement. Gary Hart supported the amendment, citing that the EQ commission does not believe budget in recommendation 2 is adequate to meet the need. Response: George Crisp stated that the budget was carefully considered and should not be increased.

Amendment was NOT Supported.

Recommendation 3: It was Approved.

Recommendation 4: It was Approved.

Recommendation 5: It was Approved.

Bishop Swenson presented George with a gift for his eight years of service to CFA. George thanks his wife Sue Crisp for support, and she thanks the conference for their appreciation.

Call To Order

Bishop Swenson called the plenary to order at 7:15.

Peace Prayer

Rev. Francisco Canas opened the plenary with a prayer for peace.

Orders of the Day

Erika Gara moved the orders of the day.

They were Approved.

Leadership Team

Leadership Team Ballot results were presented by Jim Brewster.JoAnn Fukumoto and Cedrick Bridgeforth were elected to the Leadership Team.

District Superintendents

Fletcher Hastings Scharer was introduced to the Conference. This is his 74thAnnual Conference. His son spoke on his behalf. He is in possession of the Bishop.s Cane as the oldest clergy person. Fletcher offered a blessing to the conference, recognizing that this is a great conference.

Conference Theme Conversation. Power and Authority

Teresa Basile opened by defining these words. Power is ability to effect change.

Authority is the right to use power. Authority is granted to an individual by others and demands the trust and respect for others. Biblical examples were provided such as Jesus being baptized and the day of Pentecost. God is the example of true spiritual authority.

Community Recognition of our Leaders. Authority: Personal support and respect and trust in their opinion. Power and authority are not: a sign or popularity, institutional exclusion, dependence on the leader, control or coercion, or a solitary experience.

Carole Waverly and Tom Ziegert shared their experience with shared ministry. Willie O. Jones and Odis Fentry shared their experiences with shared ministry and partnership through prayer and the memory that we are all baptized to go forth. Both partnerships were based on friendship and mutual care.

David McClelland. Stages of Power: Lower to higher, always trying to reach the next stage. Stage one: Weakness and Dependence. Infants derive strength from others. Stage Two: Control and Learning. I strengthen myself. Stage 3: Counter Dependence. I have impact on others. Testing one's own power. People often get locked in this stage and can't move forward. The balance of power is important at this stage. Stage 4: Liberation and True Growth. The recognition that we don't have the power alone, but together we can have enough power to effect change.

Questions to ponder: Does your local church have a healthy balance? What is holding you back? How can you affect the healthy balance?

Bishop Swenson asked the Annual Conference to receive the Ribbon as a mantle as we share in the power of love.

Concert

Gary Keene introduced Brian Pezzone, Concert Pianist from Holliston UMC in Pasadena, who performed.

Benediction

Fiso Aliifua offered the Benediction.

Corrections

Please make the following corrections to the UMDaily for Plenary #3, pages 6-7.

Delete line 167.

Amend line 169. Should read: restructuring of the conference and to call all entities of the Conference to align their work and decisions with the primary tasks. And delete: Its primary tasks are to.

Insert in line 171, Dave Richardson drew a parallel.

After line 184, add the following: Frank Wulf reported on the activities of the Healthy Church Growth Task Force which he has convened. They have defined healthy growth as including much more than increasing numbers of churches and members. They are developing strategies for use in the local churches and in the work of the Conference.

Delete line 185 (there was no motion)

Amend lines 186 through 189 to read: (substitute this paragraph for the existing one):

John Fanestil reported on the project, called for at the 2003 Annual Conference, to visit our retired pastors and their spouses to discern the impact of healthcare changes made last year. Over 70% of these families were visited and a report of the findings was distributed.

May God bless you with DISCOMFORT.

At easy answers, half-truths, and superficial relationships,

So that you may live deep within your heart.

May God bless you with ANGER.

At injustice, oppression, and exploitation of people,

So that you may work for justice, freedom, and peace.

May God bless you with TEARS.

To shed for those who suffer from pain, rejection, starvation, and war.

So that you may reach out your hand to comfort them

And to turn their pain into JOY.

And may God bless you with enough FOOLISHNESS.

To believe that you can make a difference in this world,

So that you can DO what others claim cannot be done. Amen

Do You Have Questions About What Records To Keep?

There is currently a lawsuit against our Annual Conference and our defense team needs some documents that as of yet have not been located. A significant question regarding documents is, .What do we keep and what do we throw away?.

A retention schedule for the California-Pacific Conference and local Church papers can be found on the website of The United Methodist Church's General Commission on Archives and History. Go to www.gcuh.org, then go to Resources, then to Guidelines for Managing Records of the Local Church and of the Annual Conference. The guidelines help you know what to save in archives and what you can throw away.

Sunday, June 20, 2004

9:30am

Call to Order:

Bishop MaryAnn Swenson called the session to order at 9:32 a.m.

She called upon SaraArmstrong to give the opening prayer for peace and justice.

Courtesies:

Bishop Swenson introduced Eddie Kelemeneni bilingual pastor of First Church of Honolulu. Kelemeneni.s career has included such accomplishments as serving a Tongan church in Salt Lake City, Utah and District superintendent of the Rocky Mountain cabinet. His wife, Tupo Kelemeneni promoted First United Methodist Church Los Angeles; which is 150 years old. Tupo explained that despite the old church building site now being a parking lot there are two housing projects in the works. Her vision is one of a cooperative effort to continue the United Methodist presence in the city. She invites the conference to join this vision.

DAILY PROCEEDINGS.2004 D-35

Orders of the Day:

Erika Gara moved the orders of the day. They were Approved.

Conference Theme Conversation

Sara Armstrong and Keith Andrew Hwang presented a discussion on Future Leadership: Spiritual Leaders Nurture and Develop Future Leaders. There is a difference between performance skill and leadership skill. Leaders cannot operate on cruise control; they must be willing to work hard and find solutions. To be a leader one must have a cooperative spirit, be willing to follow the consensus of the group, and take pride in the accomplishment while giving the credit to others; particularly, God. True leaders are willing to accept a challenge and grow the vision; they dream large dreams. When leading one must make informed decisions and know the cost of responding. Leaders accept correction and direction with humility and are able to apologize.

How do you find leaders? Watch and wait before making choices. Jesus did not pick people at random. He preached, healed, administered and developed a group of followers. He then used that pool to pick future leaders. This step takes patience. Look for someone who is hungry to grow and longs to develop relationships. The beginning of a disciple relationship is important. Be honest about the commitments required. Disciples are not manufactured for sale. They are developed one by one and it takes teaching, training and support.

There are ten basic rules for mentoring new leaders:

- 1) establish strong relationship
- 2) agree on your purpose
- 3) determine contact frequently. 1 per week
- 4) decide on accountability. written, phone, evaluations
- 5) communication. how do you want areas of concern communicated
- 6) confidentiality. be clear about what is confidential
- 7) set life cycle of relationship. duration?
- 8) evaluate. what can be done to improve, what is working?
- 9) modify. clarify expectations
- 10) Closure @right time. mutual

The challenge to the Annual Conference is to implement what was discussed and learned in our personal contexts and lives.

Personal Privilege

Stephanie Toon called for the conference to recognize all the fathers in honor of Father's Day. All the fathers stood and were and were recognized. Bishop Swenson remarked on how precious it was to recognize all the fathers.

Benediction:

Gaunnie Hardin Dixon offered the closing prayer for peace.

2:15 PM

Call to Order

Bishop Jordan called the session to order at 2:23 PM.

Prayer

Sam Domingo offered a prayer on peace.

Orders of the Day

Erika Gara presented the revised orders of the day on the screen. She asked those on the jurisdictional pool to complete their forms. She moved the orders of the day. It was supported.

Courtesies

Karin Ellis introduced Charles Cappleman who recognized Glenn Haworth for developing and maintaining the Cal-Pac website. Glenn was presented with an award. Mary Elizabeth Moore came forward to give a word of greeting from Candler School of Theology. Debbie Camphouse and Matt McPhee shared their experience in attending Candler.

Conference Comprehensive Plan Update

Craig Brown presented the 2004 Comprehensive Plan for Congregational Development. The Comprehensive Plan outlines the three primary tasks of the Annual Conference: building bridges, fruitful and prophetic leadership, & developing new ministries. The Comprehensive plan only addresses one of these tasks. The purpose of Congregational Development is developing New Ministries.

Craig outlined the work of the Board of Congregational Development. They include: developing leadership, resourcing the church, and providing strategy for the future. Craig indicated that not all pastors have the skills for developing new churches or turning around dying churches. Therefore, the committee has taken upon itself to provide training academies for pastors.

Developing new ministries does not only mean new churches, but also new ministries in existing churches.

Four areas were addressed: Ministry, Mission, Worship Attendance, and Apportionments. Mission and Ministry cannot be measured by dollars but by actual persons who have come in contact with the church. Because many churches have not filled out surveys, each district had to utilize past history on ministry expenses, mission expenses, attendance and apportionment from Tables I & II.

The steps in creating a Comprehensive Plan are: prospective areas and ministry; life-cycle chart; district strategic plan.

DAILY PROCEEDINGS.2004 D-37

The chart is utilized for indicating where new and revitalized ministry should occur. It will serve as a guide in the allotment of resources and funds to local communities. Proper utilization will promote the solution to many of our crises by creating healthy, growing, vital churches and fostering the appropriate stewardship of our assets for ministry. Additionally it can cast a vision within all structures of the annual conference concerning our call to support and nurture local church development.

Our convictions are a belief that this Annual Conference exists in fields ready for harvest (The Inland Empire is expected to grow by 3 Million people). We possess the capability and resources to reach new people with the gospel of Jesus Christ as well as the passion and commitment to end the 30-year decline in worship attendance and membership. Congregational development is part and parcel of our future in ministry.

Craig recognized several members of the Congregational Development Committee.

Rules Committee

Arlene Dempster recognized the members of the Rules Committee. She introduced Bob Stimmel as the new chair. He noted that Arlene is completing 24 years of service in the conference. He presented several gifts in appreciation.

United Methodist Men

Lew Fry noted that all clergy are members of the United Methodist Men and encouraged women clergy to take part in the business of UMM. He then introduced Larry Dozier as the new conference president of UMM. Larry outlined a vision and passion for the UMM of each district.

United Methodist Women

Lory Neser indicated that the women are not just drinking tea. She gave a brief history of how the United Methodist Women and its mission began and participated in a skit showing who a UMWoman is. They invited the body to celebrate the 135th birthday of the United Methodist Women. Lory shared several of the missions and priorities of the UMW. They are giving scholarships to the School of Christian Missions. Debra Ingraham was honored with a full scholarship as a clergy candidate. They are starting three new sister relationships with conferences in Africa. Sierra Leone, Nigeria and Liberia. New leadership in the Western Jurisdiction from Diane Vogan, Monalisa Tuitahi, and in the Women's Division with Naty Lagaso as director, and Ana-Haydee Urda. Lory then recognized Meesue Park for 8 years of service as Women's Division Director.

UM Foundation

Jan Berentsen introduced the primary task for the UM Foundation. The foundation exists to invite a faithful response to the stewards of this conference through stewardship education, resource for estate planning, workshops and local church interactions. She shared several resources available to the local churches. The number (626) 568 7347 was given as a contact number. She acknowledged the work of the board of directors. She indicated that a change has been made in the audit team, and that the Foundation received a clean audit report.
